

Property Manager
Docklands, London
Competitive Salary

The Residential Management Group (RMG) provide nationwide property management services through a network of highly respected property management brands, with a trading history dating back over 50 years.

RMG are currently looking for a Property Manager to join an unrivalled team of professionals, based within our Docklands office in London. At least 12 months previous property management experience is essential or related experience in the commercial or public sector would be considered.

The ideal candidate will have the ability to build excellent working relationships with all internal and external customers using outstanding communication skills. Problem solving and initiative is crucial for this role to ensure exceptional customer service at all times.

For further information or to request details of other fantastic opportunities that may interest you, please contact us using the email address below. To apply for these roles, please send your CV and covering letter to stephanie.bryan@rmg.gb.com.